this morning.

THERE ARE NO BARNACLES ON "THE WORLD" TO HINDER ITS PROGRESS,

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1888

tted his house and were on intimate terms with him, suspected that his seeming mental decay and subjection to the medium was not brought about by mere intellectual and will power.

In plain terms, they suspected that he was

GOSSIP OF THE EXCHANGES.

William K. Kitchen, one of the best-liked brokers n the Stock Exchange, gave his numerous friends

There is a small contingent of brokers on the

The ensuing month will find a number of repre-

Sale of the Hell Gate Tower.

The Hell Gate electric tower was sold at Governnent auction yesterday to Westminster Aboey, a well-known New York business man, for $125. The Reckless, Sensational Journalism

From the Montreal Star.

The last feat of the lying Ottawa telegraphic correspondent of the New York Herald is to raise a report of the elopement of a daughter of Senator Thibandeau. The correspondent of that newspaper appears to have been so careless that he did not so much as inquire whether Senator Thibaudeau has a daughter or not. It so happens that he has two daugnters, one eleven and the other nine years old. The absurdity of the report is apparent to every one who knows that the Senator's daughters are mere children. But comparatively few know this, and the report has given the parents and other relatives of the children considerable an-

Following a Good Example.

Following the example of the Fost-Dispatch, the for its separate and exclusive use. We tender our Crushed Between Flywheels.

Oxfore, N. J., April 23 -Louis Stockbine, an employee of one of the rolling mills here, met with Local News Condensed.

this evidence of its prosperity.

noyance.

PRICE ONE CENT.

STICKING TO THEIR FIGHT.

THE LOCKED-OUT BREWERS STILL STICK ING TO THEIR POSITION.

The Bosses Keeping Up a Bold Front-Th Knights of Labor Will Stand by the Locked-Out Men-Encouraging Words from 49's Executive Board-Progress of the Boycott in the City Saloons.

The brewers' lockout, as far as the old employees and the bosses are concerned, remain in the same condition to-day as it did yester day, both sides claiming to have the better of the battle, and the fight still going on.

Another phase was put on the matter by the announcement that Master Workman Quinn had reported that the Executive Board of District Assembly 49 had decided that wherever it was possible Knights of Labor would take the places of union men in the brew-

There was a great deal of talk at Clarendon Hall over the report thus made, and many expressed their disbelief in such a course on the part of the Knights, who were all along presumed to be in sympathy with the union brewers, although not extending any active and financial support.

An Evening World reporter saw William Muller, Robert Dinkel and George Koberstein, who were appointed by the locked-out men to visit the Executive Board of No. 49 and request the moral assistance of that body. Mr. Muller says that the committee saw five members of 49's Executive Board, who assured them that the Knights of No. 49 would be requested through the local assemblies to give the brewery workmen all the asblies to give the brewery workmen all the assistance in their power.

One member of the Executive Board said:

"If it were in my power I would take a club and club out all the men who remained in the breweries after such a lockout."

The committee was at a loss to account for the subsequent statement of Master Workman Ouing.

At Clarendon Hall it was reported that twenty men who returned to work after the lockout had again quit and joined the locked-out men.

At the association rooms, in Irving place, the bosses still claimed the victory. They were further encouraged by the report that the Knights of Labor would take the places of the union men. but they declared that no organization would be recognized as such in any negotiations with their employees. The bosses think that the Board of Arbitration has no business to interfere in the present Case.

Along the Bowery several saloons have the sign "No Pool Beer Sold Here "displayed, but at Capt. Jos. Emerich's saloon, No. 207 Broadway, nearly the entire front of the saloon is taken up with a sign which reads: "Notice: No Beer will be sold here until the brewers relent." Next to it is another sign announcing that "All kinds of drinks except Pool Beer "are sold within.

A telephone message received at the Brewers' Exchange from Conrad Stein's brewery announced that a committee of the unions waited on Mr. Stein and requested him to sign their agreement. He refused to do so and his employees all let the brewery.

Mr. Stein said that unless his old men returned by noon to-day he would declare their places vacant and put new men in them. The association sent new men to the brewers at noon.

At the meetings in Clarendon Hall it was

At the meetings in Clarendon Hall it was At the meetings in Clarendon Hall it was announced that Brewer Fergenspahn, of Glendale L. I., had signed the union contract. His men continued at work. He is a member of the Association, and is therefore liable under the pool agreement, to forfeit $5,000 for a violation of the resolutions against the recognition of the labor unions.

Secretary Reige, of the Beer Drivers' Thion, reported that sixteen old drivers who had gone back to work after the lockout had left their places and joined the men at Clarendon Hall. Five others left the union men and went to work to-day.

and went to work to-day.

The brewers' unions gave the men who recurned to work until noon to-day to rejoin the locked-out force. Hereafter all union men who turned traitors to the cause are

CARNEGIE DUMFOUNDS THE KNIGHTS.

If They Do Not Report for Work, Non-Unio Men Will Be Hired.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD. 1 Pittsburg, April 20.-Andrew Carnegie has ordered his Braddock mill to start Mon-

If the Knights fail to report for work, non union labor will be employed.

The Knights are dumfounded

They Were Not Walking Delegates. The report that four walking delegates had drunk pool beer in John H. Cole's saloon, at 1883 Third avenue, is emphatically denied by the Board of Walking Delegates of the building and other trajes.

Car-ful inquiry by an Evening World reporter shows that none of the members of the Board visited the aloon mentioned, but were busily engaged attending to their duties and also in soliciting saloon-keepers all over the city from patronizing pool breweries. In a number of instances where the delegates were asked to drink or smoke, they positively declined because pool over was sold in the places.

the places.

It is the belief of the delegates that some one spread the report, either for fun or for the purpose of doing the much-abused waking delegates an injury. An explanation for the erroneous report is given in the fact that it is customary now for frequenters of saloons to call some hanger—on and bummers "waiking delegates" because they do not have anything else to do but to waik about,

Notes About Workingmen.

Delegate Wolfe, of Union No. 90, presided at the obacco Trades Section last night. Twelve new members were admitted to the Jour neymen Shop Butchers' Union at the last meeting

The Eiks' Association of Butchers has induced we sa con-keepers to change their beer from pool The Uranja Labor Club of waiters and the Barnders' unions have jointly arranged to as cewers in their present struggle. T. J. Hawkins, delegate of the Adams and Cyl-inder Pressmen's Union, presided at the meeting of the Printing Trades Section Thursday night.

The Miscellaneous Section has instructed all the organizations represented in it to attend the mass-meeting at Cooper Union to-night in aid of the locked-out brewers.

The Journeymen Shop Batchers' Union removed its place of meeting from 1110 Second avenue to 545 Third avenue because the proprietor of the former place sells pool beer.

A succial committee of the Mincellencom Section

A special committee of the Miscellaneous Section will wait on the furniture and carpet store firms in Third and Eighth avenues, and ask them to close their places at 7 and 5 r. M. respectively. egates from Pressmen's Union No. 9 Adams and Cylinder Pressmen's Union, Newsdealers and Stationers' Association and the Horace Greeley Club were admitted to the Printing Trades Section Thursday night.

The Secretary of the Snop Butchers' Union has een instructed by that body to write 10 Mayor lewitt and call his attention to the fact that a arge number of butcher shops are kept open on undays until 11 and 12 o'clock.

Preambles and resolutions indorsing the course of the Brewers' unions were adopted last right by the Tobacco Trades Section, and moral and financial support piedged to the locked-out men. The delegates will not patronize any pool beer place.

The West-Side Association of Silk-Ribbon Weav-ers, the Waiking-Stick Makers' Union, Council No. 5, of the Furniture and Carpet Employees' As-sociation and Beigian Pavers' Union No. 1 were admitted to the Miscellaneous Section Thursday evening.

A fine of $5 will be levied on any member of the Shop Butchers' Union who drinks pool beer. A committee has been appointed to visit all the saloons in the neighborhood of the union's meeting place at $45 Third avonue and endeavor to persuade the proprietors to give up selling pool beer. McCafferty & Donovan, electrotypers and stereo-typers, at Church and Vesey streets, said yesterday that they had for two months been trying to find out why their establishment has been declared a non-union shop by Stereotypers and Electrotypers' Union No. 1. They say that they employ union men and pay union wages.

Officers were elected at the Tobacco Trades Section meeting last night as follows: Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Siegfried Popper, of Cigar-Makers' Union No. 90; Financial Secretary, F. Reibetanz, of Cigar-Makers' Union No. 144; Credential Committee—M. Dampf, J. Wolfe, S. Popper, H. Kahler and Delegate Marcuse.

The Oystermen's Union has induced the proprietors of Frank's Hall, at 123 West Houston street, to give up selling pool beer and substitute the nonpool. A committee will visit all the salcons in the neighborhood of the oyster market at the foot of West Tenth street and endeavor to persuade them to quit selling pool beer. Any member of the union who drinks pool beer will be fined $10.

who drinks pool beer will be fined $10.

A committee of ten from the Food Producers Section that was instructed to visit halls and places where labor organizations meet and beer is sold, reports that pool beer has been dropped by the proprietors of Hotz's and Military halls, in the Bowery, and Schutz's Hall, 101 Avenue A. The committee will continue its work until all the places are visited.

MINISTER PENDLETON VERY SICK.

Seized with a Stroke of Apoplexy at the Wiesbaden Hospital. Copyright, 1888, by The Press Publishing Company (New Fork World). [SPECIAL CARLE DESPATCH TO THE WORLD.] London, April 20. - Despatches from Berlin bring the startling information that Minister Pendleton is lying in the hospital at Wiesbaden dangerously ill.

He is suffering from a stroke of apoplexy, and was taken sick while on his way to Frankfort.

NEW YORK VS. WASHINGTON.

A special correspondent of "The Even. World" has gone to Washington with the Giants. The readers of the Sporting Extra to-night will have a full and excellent report of the game this afternoon. Look out for it. It is the first game of the League championship. The other League games to-day will Boston at Philadelphia. Detroit at Pittsburg. Chicago at Indianapolis.

EMPEROR FREDERICK IMPROVES.

All the Physicians Agree that He Is Better This Morning.

[BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] Berlin, April 20.-A bulletin was issued at o'clock this morning by the physicians in attendance at the Castle of Charlottenburg announcing that the Emperor had passed a good night and his fever again decreased, while his breathing was very much easier. His whole general condition is pronounced to be improved The bulletin was signed by all the physicians.

TWENTY-FOUR MINERS BLOWN TO ATOMS. A Terrific Explosion in the St. Helen Coal Mines at Workington. England.

[BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] London, April 20.-A terrific disaster oc curred last night in the St. Helen coal-mines at Workington by the explosion of fire-damp. The miners were hurled in every direction by the force of the explosion, and as soon as an examination could be made it was found that twenty-four men had been killed and ten were so seriously wounded by flying fragments that most of them will die. The victims were blown into fragments and the gallery in which the disaster occurred presented a sickening sight.

Most of the dead miners had families who are left in great destitution.

RAGE AND JEALOUSY THE CAUSE.

Further Particulars of the Chase-Stevens Tragedy at Portland.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD,]
PORTLAND, April 20, —Edward Chase, a son of Dr. E. P. Chase, of New York, shot and killed Mrs. Nellie Stevens, of Gardiner, yesterday, and then shot nimself. The tragedy caused a sensation, as the principals are well known. The two met in this city by appointment. Mrs. Stevens's brother arrived here this morning from Gardiner. The Coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon and the body will be taken to Gardiner at hoon.

It appears that Chase worked at Gardiner hast year, and boarded near where Mrs. Stevens lived.
He became infatuated with her, but it is not thought that there were any improper relations between them.
Mrs. Stevens had been here for some days, at the house of her aunt, Mrs. Josselyn, on Congress atreet. and the body will be taken to Gardiner at noon.

It is supposed that she refused to submit to his and in a fit of rage and jealousy Chase propisatis, and in a fit of rage and jealousy Chase committed the deed. He is now at the hospital, and there is more than an even chance that he will recover.

Young Chase left his home a week ago for Gardiner, Me., to get work as an engineer. He there made the acquaintance of Mrs. Slevens, at the boarding-house kept by her father, J. H. Ladd. Chase was twenty-seven years of age, was married and had three children in Livermore, Me. He had considerable mechanical talent, and ontit he met the woman led a very soler life. His father, Dr. E. P. Chase, who lives in this city, knows nothing of the affair.

" Not Bulk, but Business !"

"Nat Bulk, but Bushness!"
is the way a Western man put it in expressing to a friend his complete satisfaction in the use of DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PURGATIVE PELLETS. So small and yet so effectual, they hid fair to supplant entirely the old style pill. An ever ready remedy for sick and hillous headache, billousness, constipation and all blood disorders. Mild in action, wonderful in effect! Put up in vials, convenient to carry, their use attended with no discomfort! These sterling merits account for their great popularity.

PEARL EYTINGE IN COURT

HER FORMER LANDLADY SUING HER FOR A BOARD BILL.

The Actress-Authoress Very Weak, but Sh Testifies All the Same—A Counter Claim for Goods Stolen Set Up by the Defense -The Landlady Attempts to be Personal but is Sileneed by the Court.

Seated on a rough bench in the dingy court room presided over by Civil Justice Clancey at Pearl and Centre streets, this morning, surrounded by a motley crowd of Italian laborers, clamorous for wages withheld, and breathing the tobacco-laden atmosphere, was a handsome black-eyed woman. She wore a heavy cloak of striped material a black lace wrap was drawn close about he throat and a bonnet of black, relieved by a dark-red flower crowned her dark tresses. The handsome face was very pale, and the slight form beneath the cloak shivered perceptibly, whether because of the coarse surroundings or with weakness was not appar ent.

The woman was Pearl Eytinge, the actress authoress.

Big Justice Clancey ascended the bench and long calendar of minor cases was disposed of when he called: "Benas against Yard." The plaintiff, a woman of about forty-seven years, was Mary Benas, who kept a boardinghouse at 78 East Eleventh street until Febru ary last, and the defendant was Pearl Evtinge-Yard, a former boarder.

Mrs. Benas was suing to forclose a boarding-house keeper's lien on three trunks, books, clothing, toilet articles, pictures and other property of Mrs. Yard's, which she had held in payment of a bill of $102.93 for board and lodging.

Defendant's counsel, Myer J. Stein and R. J. Hare, asked an adjournment on account of Defendant's counsel, Myer J. Stein and R. J. Hare, asked an adjournment on account of the illness of their client, but Miss Eytinge objected and desired the ordeal over.

Oscar E. Langer and Joseph H. Fay appeared for plaintiff and put her on the stand for the first witness. She is a German. She told her story. How Miss Eytinge had paid for three months' board with a check from her husband from whom she is living apart, and when the second check arrived Miss Eytinge failed to pay, and left on Jan 29, 1888, leaving her board unpaid to Feb. 7.

On cross-examination, when it was attempted to prove by her that her son had stolen a silk dress, of the value of $128.74, from Miss Eytinge, for which plaintiff agreed to pay, this agreement being set up as a counterclaim for the board bill, Mrs. Benas became excited and said that she would not be responsible for what Miss Eytinge said, for she was unaccountable because of her intemperance.

Eytinge said, for she was unaccountable because of her intemperance.

Justice Clancy quickly put a stop to examination on this line.

The authoress took the stand in her own behalf, or was rather led to it by her counsel, as she was very weak and trembled greatly.

"This woman is not able to be on the stand," said Judge Clancey.

"Oh, yes, I am!" she protested in a weak voice, and closed her lips tightly to prevent a manifestation of weakness.

She stated that she was an authoress, gaining her livelihood by writing poems and stories for Godey's Lady's Book, Demores's Monthly, Texas Syftings, Judge and other publications.

lications.
She said that Mrs. Benas had acknowledged

She said that Mrs. Benas had acknowledged that her son had stolen the silk dress and that she would pay her for it. She also charged another son with the larceny of her manuscriptblay, "Two Women." which, he said, he got at Pearl Eytinge's own request and gave to his mother.

Miss Eytinge further accused the son of wrenching from her hand when she was leaving the house a silk umbrella valued at $15, which had been presented to her by the ladies of St. Andrew's Fair.

She denied that she is in receipt of $10 per week from her husband and acknowledged that her complaint against young Benas for entative commission houses in possession of offices that her complaint against young Benas for stealing her play was dismissed in Jefferson Market Police Court. much less pretentious than those which they have Market Police Court.

Judge Clancey dismissed the question of the dress and other articles claimed to have the results of the long-continued quiness. Curtailment is the rule, but to it, as to all other rules, been stolen from consideration, as Mrs. Benas was not obliged to pay for wrongs which may have been committed by others. He was not fully satisfied, however, that the board bill had been proven to be due, and there are exceptions, and they are formed in this instance by the younger firms of the street which.

MERRILY ENTERTAINED.

he reserved his decision

Reception by the Elite Social Circle of Mott Haven-The Members and Guests.

Wednesday evening the Elite Social Circle o Mott Haven tendered their many friends a mor enjoyable reception at the residence of Miss M. Mc Phillips, Deimonico place, Morrisania. Prof. Vaivis furnished the music for dancing. During the evening Miss M. Ryan, the planist, rendered several selections, and sang "Jamie of Dundee, to the delight of all. Miss Alice Harris sang "Waiting," and Miss M. O'Grady recited "The Last Hymn." A banquet was served at 1 o'clock, which was rendered palatable owing to the facthat the fair maidens of the E. S. C. served the various dishes. It was not until the "wee hours of the morn" that the party separated, having various dishes. It was not until the "wee hours of the morn" that the party separated, having fully enjoyed themselves.

The following are the members of the Circle: Miss M. Ryan, Fresident; Miss K. McKenna, Treasurer; Miss M. McPhillipe, Secretary; Miss A. Steele, Miss H. Hogab, Miss E. Hogan, Miss M. O'Grady, Miss A. Keenan.

Miss A. Keenan.

Among the goests were: Miss Tuomey, Miss Steele, Miss Murchy, the Misses O'Grady, Miss Steele, Miss Keily, the Misses McKenna, Miss O'Connor, Miss M. Gibney, Miss Brady, Miss Short, Miss A. Harris, the Misses McPhillips, J. Smith, F. Donion, Mr. Heffernan, Mr. Mouigomery, Mr. Steele, Drs. Merrigan and Clark, Mr. Cronin, Mr. Woods, Mr. Kinsiey, Mr. Tuomey, Mr. Christie, Mr. O'Connor, Mr. Owens and Mr. Sneider.

A Case of Dog in the Manger.

(From the Carlisle (Pu.) Volunteer.]
Mr. Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, has purchased the property known as French's Hotel in New York City, paying for it $630,000 and is preparing to erect upon the site a newspape and printing office to cost over $1,000,000. The site s on Park stow, near the New York end of the Brooklyn Bridge, and on the corner opposite th New York Sun Building. The prospect of suc magnificent quarters for THE WORLD arouses the jealousy of the Sun, and that paper is doing its pest to induce the city to get possession of it for bridge and other purposes.

The World Growing Better.

[From the Chicago Tribung.] New York journalism is preparing to put or more airs than ever. A $1,000,000 building on a 8630,000 lot! Whither are we drifting? What is THE WORLD coming to?

Of Interest to Engineers.

craham, General Ayent, 94 Liberty et,, New Park:
DEAR SIE: Having given the Ellis Cylinder Oil Cup a thorough trial, we are entirely estated with it, and i would say to those using Lobricatofs of they try the Ellis Cup they will use no other. Respectfully pours.

UHAS. M. MCKENNA, Chief Engineer Adams Ex. Co.
This cup is now used by THE WORLD and gives perfect satisfaction.

THEY FEARED MURDER. The Reason Why Mmc, Diss Debar Has Been Kept in the Tombs.

" Take my jewels, my money, my pictures, all I have, but get me out of this terrible place," said Mme. Diss Debar to her counsel, John D. Townsend, in her Tombs cell

She held out the black leather reticule which she has kept close to her during the Thousands Pay a Final Tribute seven days and nights she has languished in jail. It contained $4,550 in bills by actual jail. It contained $4,550 in bills by actual count of the prison officials.

Lawyer Townsend shook his head and said it was hopeless to get bail.

And it is hopeless. Ann O'Delia must remain in the Tombs till she goes thence to trial, conviction and the penitentiary.

There has been some surprise that the medium, with all her money and her influence over Mr. Marsh, should have been unable to secure her release pending her trial. The reason is that several weeks ago several influential friends of Mr. Marsh, who often visited his house and were on intimate terms of the life of Roscoe Conkling, was the fu neral service at Trinity Chapel this morning. Fully two thousand people ventured out, In plain terms, they suspected that he was being drugged.

Members of Congress and the Legislature, Leaders in Every Walk of Life, and Hundreds of High and Low Among the Monraers-Sincere Grief During the Ceremonies at Trinity Chapel-Magnificent Floral Offerings-The Bedy Taken to Utlea.

When the revelations as to the mysterious death of old Loewenbertz came to light, and when Salomon Ann O'Delia's brother plainly said he believed she had poisoned the old man, Mr. Marsh's friends became still_xmore slavned. notwithstanding the rain, to pay the last ribute to the dead statesman, and the chapel was completely filled, while hundreds remained on the sidewalks and pavement m West Twenty-fifth street during the funeral rites.

alarmed.
They represented to Justice Kilbreth the necessity of getting the woman out of the Marsh mansion. If she stayed there the venerable lawyer might come to his death it some such manner as did old Loewenhertz. This was the reason why the bail was fixed so high, why such strenuous efforts were made to keep the madam behind the thick walls of the Tombs, and why Howe & Hummel were urged to press the other charges so vigor. Inspector Steers, at the head of a platoor of forty picked policemen, was at the entrance to the chapel, and Capt. Reilly and Sergt. Schmittberger commanded a body of thirty policemen before the scene of the leath of the ex-Senator in Twenty-fourth street.

urged to press the other charges so vigor-ously, Mine, Diss Debar was in a terrible passion Mine. Disa Debar was in a terrible passion when the reporters called this morning. Adversity is fast souring her temper and driving her to despair.

When asked what she thought of Mr. Marsh's scornful allusion to her as "that woman" and his willingness to get her effects out of his house, she said:

"He may think what he likes of my character. He knows I am a true medium, and has proofs of my power with the spirits." with an aged colored woman. There were hundreds of sincere mourners.

sional hymn, "O Paradise," there were many moistened eyes in the audience. The plain, black, broadcloth-covered cas. ket in which Mr. Conkling's body rested was brought down from his apartment early occasion for rejoicing recently by returning from the South, where poor bealth had driven him for the winter, greatly benefited, by his sojourn in Florida. o'clock. Then it was placed in a plain black hearse, drawn by a single pair of black horses, and Coffee Exchange who feel sore because the authorities have abandoned for the present the idea of a new building. Their dissatisfaction is probably heightened by the prospect of confinement five hours a day in the present low-ceilinged, suffy and ill-ventilated Board-room during the ensuing

Gen. Charles H. T. Collis, Secretary of the Committee on Arrangements for the Grant birthday dinner, to be given April 27 at Deimonico's, is one of the Stock Exchange men who combine rare and striking qualities. He made his mark as a soldier and later as a lawyer. As a business man he is satute, and as a writer he is forcible and original. He is an occasional courtibutor to the magazines. That he will figure in the future as a historian is probable, for it is said that he is writing a history of the civil war and that it is well under way. A clerk in the banking house of Vermilye & Co. came downtown recently and informed his emfellow-workers could understand at first how in these duli times a young man like him could give up a good position and a fair salary. But the lucky cierx, as he afterwards gleetuily expialned to his fellows, had no further use for a salarled po-sition. He had just inherited $1,000,000, and in-tended to quit the account books of Vermilye & Co. for the text books of Harvard College.

of forty citizen who arrived last night, occupied the seats next in the rear of the mourning family. They were as follows:

ccupied for the past year or more. Tals is one of instance by the younger firms of the street which, despite the unfavorable conditions, have succeeded in building up a remunerative business. The members of such firms as these were two or three years ago cierks in the employ of leading concerns. Youth, industry and enterprise have won them success, and in some cases they have in the race for business actually outstripped the parent houses. The friends of young Fred Rook, of the Stock

The Bar Association was represented by Senator William M. Evarts, Stephen P. Nash. James C. Carter and William Allen Exchange, say that smong the wing-shots of the Exchange he is the coming man.

Nash. James C. Carter and William Allen Butler.

The joint Legislative Committee consisting of Senators Coggeshall, Van Cott, Sweet, Laughlin and Stadler, and Assemblymen Husted, Gallagher, Hunting, Entz, Beattie, Gordon, Kent and Martin occupied pews on the centre aisle. The legislators entered the church in a body and were headed by the Sergeants at Arms of both Houses. Henry Graves, of the Stock Exchange firm of Maxwell & Graves, is one of the men who can afford to be a picture flend. He has a very fine col-lection of paintings, and is constantly enhancing its value by the audition of costly works.

A Congressional committee arrived at the church at 9,45 and were ushered into a front pew. Among them were Congressmen Cockran, Campbell, Sherman, Delano, Bolden tower was erected about two years ago at a cost of about $15,000. The light was not a success. Mar-iners found it cast shadows along the surface of the water in the neighborhood of the tower which the water in the neighborhood of the tower which were dangerous to vessels. They petitioned the Government to extinguish the light, which the Government did at midnight Dec. 1, 1887. The tower was sold for old iron and will, probably be removed at once.

leaves dropped from the pieces were eagerly treasured up as mementoes of the dead statesman.

Miss Amelia Harmon, an artist, tearfully asked an attendant for a leaf from one of the designs, and having received it hurried away designs, and having received it hurried away with her treasure.

The hearse was followed to the Grand Central depot by more than one hundred carriages, laden with the most honored of the citizens of New York.

The special train which conveyed the remains of Mr. Conkling to Utica was composed of a locomotive, a baggage-car, President Depew's private car for the use of the family, and two drawing-room cars.

The face of the ex-Senator was seen by a few friends vesterday, but the lid of the coffin was closed at 6 o'clock last evening and was not again opened. New York Wonto is about to erect a new building esteemed contemporary our congratulations on was not again opened.

To morrow the body will lie in state in Urica, and Mr. Conkling's old neighbors will be permitted to view the body from 12 to I o'clock.

The casket will be inclosed in an outer box of oak, bearing a plain copper plate inscribed with the name. 'Roscoe Conking.'

Among those present were:

a terrible death last night by being crushed be-tween two high firwheets. His body was muti-lated beyond recognition. Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt, ex-Gov. Alongo B. Cornell, ex-Senator Warner Miller, Edward S. Stokes, Postmaster-General Dickinson, Dwight George Zimmerman's bakeshop at 157 Delancey treet was damaged by fire this morning to the amount of $700 and the building $300.

HIS LAST JOURNEY.

Impressive Funeral Services Over Roscoe Conkling.

to the Statesman and Jurist.

Simple, unostentations, like the last years

The gathering of people included every station in life. Senators Evarts and Hiscock occupied a pew in the body of the chapel and when the surpliced choir of thirty boys and young men entered singing the procesin the morning and rested on a bier in the parlor of Mr. Goff's apartments, on the first floor of 9 West Twenty-fourth street, till 16 followed by carriages containing the mourners, was taken to the chapel.

ers, was taken to the chapel.

There it was carried down the central aisle on the shoulders of four men and placed on a cata alque directly before the chancel.

A wreath of laurel lay at the head of the coffin, and a myrtle wreath, knotted with a bunch of red roses, was at the foot.

The pall-bearers were Senator John P. Jones, Manton Marble, S. L. M. Barlow, Clarence A. Seward, Judge William A. Wallace, ex-Judge Shipman, Senator J. Donald Cameron, Isaac H. Bailey, Col. W. S. Church, the venerable Dr. Barker and Dr. Sands. They followed the remains in this order, ex-Secretary of State Hamilton Fish being too ill to attend.

secretary of State Hamilton Fish being too ill to attend.

After the pall-bearers came the mourners. Mrs. Conkling and Col. Frederick A. Conkling, the brother of the ex-Senator came first, bowed with grief. Mr. and Mrs. Oakman, Judge Coxe and Mrs. Coxe, Alderman Alfred R. Conkling and Miss Coleman, of Cazenovia; Howard Conkling and Miss Laura Conkling, son and daughter of Col. Conkling; Col. Fred D. Grant and his mother, the widow of Gen. Grant: Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild and Mrs. Fairchild, George C. Gorham and Mrs. Fred Grant, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Grant:

A committee of forty citizens of Utics

They were as follows:

Mayor Martin, ex-Mayors Kenny and Hutchinson, Mr. Proctor Judge Comstock, P. V. Rogers, Wm. M. Prottor Judge Comstock, P. V. Rogers, Wm. M. White, C. M. Dennison, E. Frentice Bailey, Wm. Blaikle, Frank Lang, M. W. Van Auken, Wm. A. Matteson, C. J. Everett, W. E. Lewis, H. J. Cookingham, James Raton, Dr. James G. Hunt, Dr. M. O. Terry, James Armstrong, I. S. Hunt, George B. Dana, Edward Rouch, D. L. Davis, W. Fred Allen, George R. Allen, W. J. Davis, W. Fred Allen, George R. Allen, W. J. Ball, P. J. C. De Angeles, Fred Eaton, H. D. Pixley, William M. Clarke, H. O. R. Tucker, John S. Capron, Thomas F. Baker, Col. George Young, M. J. Brayton and John E. Brandegee.

The Bar Association was represented by ran, Campbell, Sherman, Delano, Bolden and Hopkins.

The service of the Episcopal Church, ex-cept the committal, was read by the Rev. Dr. Morgan J. Dix.

The surpliced choir sang "Rock of Ages."

The surpliced choir sang "Rock of Ages," the congregation joining in the soft, soothing strains of the hymn. The hymn. "Abide With Me," was the recessional.

There was a world of sweet flowers. On the chancel steps was a pillow of Ascension likes. La France roses and white flowers. It was from the New York Athletic Club. Other offerings were from Mrs. C. B. Morton, of South Fifth street, Washington: Mrs. Orton, J. W. McKay, Edward C. Spofford and Mrs. W. H. Painter.

After the service scores of people gathered about the floral offerings, and occasional leaves dropped from the pieces were eagerly

TOO WIDE-AWAKE TO BE CAUGHT.

Olmstead, John E. Parsons, ex-Judge Donohue, Maurice B. Flynn, United States Commissioner Shields, Gen. Sigel. Surveyor Beattle, ex-Judge Peabody, Frederic R. Coudert, W. J. Lardner. Maurice B. Flynn, United States Commissioner Shields, Gen. Sigel. Surveyor Beattle, ex-Judge Peabody, Frederic R. Condert, W. J. Lardner. United States Commissioner Griffith, ex Surrogate Calvin, ex-Park Commissioner S. E. Lanc, Col. Geo. B. Van Bruat, ex-Mayor Wickham, Joseph H. Choate, E. Ellery Anderson, ex-Autorney-General Lesile W. Russell, Asa B. Kellogg, Roswell P. Flower, A. Dickinson Wilhams, ex-Collector Murphy, Alderman Forster, DeLancey Nicoll, Frank Work, J. E. Brodsky, Col. Robert G. Ingersoil, John H. Starin, Wilham Wyse, Col. T. A. Hemilton, Rufus Hatch, Hamilton Fash, Ir.; Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin; Edward Glimore, Surrogate Ransom, J. B. Haskin, John J. Morris, ex-Judge Dittenhoefer, Silas B. Dutcher, Charles E. Coons, ex-Judge Piercepont, Levi M. Bates, S. W. Thompson, Thomas C. Acton, David Budley Field.
Corporation Counsel Beckman, Henry L. Clinton, Eilhu Root, W. W. Macfarland, Christopher Fine, John B. Kernan, son of ex-Senator Francis Kernan; Frederick Loud, Alderman Henjamin, Alderman Cowie, Commissioner Ridgway, Inspector Williams, Clarence W. Meade, Police Justice Fatterson, Police Justice Ford, Edward Kearney, Dwight Lawrence, Col. Thomas P. Ochiltree, Jacob Hess, Frederick S. Gilba, James W. Boyle, John B. Grimes, Denis Shea, William P. Townley, John G. Lawson, John W. Jacobus, George Hillard, Coroner Nugent, Henry C. Fertey, Frank Raymond, Thomas N. Stearns, Civil Justice Deane, John F. Enright, George Stewart, Richard M. Lush, Issae Dayton, W. H. Bellamy, Robert G. McCord.

NEW YORK VS. WASHINGTON.

A special correspondent of " The Evening World" has gone to Washington with the Giants. The readers of the Sporting Extra to-night will have a full and excellent report of the game this afternoon. Look out for it. It is the first game of the League championship.

The other League games will be: Boston at Philadelphia. Detroit at Pittsburg. Chicago at Indianapolis.

GIANTS FEEL SURE OF VICTORY.

Ward and All the Boys Ready for To-Day Game in Washington. IMPECIAL TO THE WORLD, I WASHINGTON, April 20. -Jim Mutrie's ball-tossers aden with grips and bat-bags, boarded the sleepe

'Egeria" at the Pennsylvania depot, in Jersey City, at 12 o'clock last night, bound for the Capito City to see what they could do in a tussel with the In the party there were sixteen regular players,

Manager Mutrie, the Sporting Editor of the Press and THE EVENING WORLD representative. Johnny Ward was there as large as life. There was a subdued but satisfied sir about him that in dicated a resumption of the old-time pleasant rela tion between hunself and the powers that be. The boys when they were all aboard comfortably filled the car, Many of them retired just as the train left the depot. Others, including Foster, Stattery, Ned Crane and "Smiling Mickey," in augurated an impromptu concert on the front steps of the sleeper, and many and varied were the songs that floated out on the air as the train rolled songs that floated out on the air as the train rolled through the darkness.

Buck Ewing soon called the boys to bed, however, and before many miles had been traversed the long alsie was curtained from end to end, and nothing disturbed the beauty of the scene but banny kichardson's little trouesrs lying on the floor in front of his berth and various painful sounds indicating that sleeper was busly engaged in knitting up the ravelled sleeve of Care.

Upon arriving at their desination this morning everybody remarked to Wilhard's, built up the gray everybody repaired to Willard's, built up the gra-matter of their brains with sundry estables and drinkables, and expressed themselves at thoroughly satisfied with the world at large.

As to this afternoon's game there is but one opinion, which is voiced by Jim Mutrie: "Although they have been our Jonans in the past, I think we will beat them this time hands down."

Beck-Murphy. Frank W. Beck, the well-known hotel man o bakland, Cal., was married on Tuesday evening at St. Ann's Church to Miss Annie E. Murphy, of Savannah, Ga. The bride is a very beautiful young lady and is well connected both North and The bridesmaids were the Misses Laura and May Fulton, of Elizabeth, N. J. The groom was at-

The bridesmaids were the Misses Laura and May Pulton, of Elizabeth, N. J. The groom was at-tended by O. J. Miller, of Rome, N. Y., and Mr. James Kelly, of this city. After the ceremony there was a reception and supper at the Sinclair House, followed by dancing, which continued to a late hour. Suing for Libel in Treaton. TRENTON, April 20. - Joseph A. Gory, who was amed as one of the co-respondents in the William-on divorce suit, has brought suit against the Frenten Times to recover $10,000 damages for libel. The suit is based on an article published in the Trines headed "Twelve Naught Men." Charles J. Rutgers and Police Justice Contier, who were also named as co-respondents, will bring another suit for damages against the Trines. Three Buildings Burned at Newark. NEWARK, April 20.—James & McLean's planing mill at 130 McWhorter street took fire this morning and was entirely destroyed. The flames com-municated to M. W. Swezey's stables and J. M. McDoughas's carpenter shop. The horses were saved but both buildings were burned. The loss is esti-mated at $30,000.

Betrayal, Robbery, Descriton, Suicide, [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

NEW HAVEN, April 20. - Christina Kraft, aged thirty-two, who had been betrayed, robbed and reserted by her lover, committed suicide by drowning this morning.

The Weather To-Day. Indicated by Blakely's tele-thermometer: Indicated by Hakely's telecthormometer:

1889, 1887, 1885, 1887, 1885, 1887, 1886, 1887, 1886, 1887, 1886, 1887, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1887, 1888, 1887, 1888, 1887, 1888, 1

BENSON'S PLOT TO ESCAPE

WARDEN KEATING WAS TO HAVE BEEN " LAID OUT " IF NECESSARY.

Drugs were to Have Been Given to the Other Two Keepers-John Kelly and Edward Bertine Remanded Again To Day-How the Warden's Suspicions v First Aroused-Benson Sheds Tears.

John Kelly and Edward Bertine, the two conspirators who plotted to rescue Henry Benson, the Mexican swindler, from Ludlov Street Jail, were remanded by Justice Street Jail, were remanded by Justice O'Reilly, at Jefferson Market, until to-morrow, when further evidence against them will be torthcoming.

Benson's plot to escape was first discovered by Warden Keating about seven weeks ago, when the prisoner made a proposition to John McCabe, one of the keepers, to obtain for him an impression of the keyhole in the corridor door.

Since that time the conspirators have been followed up by the Warden, and McCabe, who was believed by Benson and Kelly and Bertine, his friends on the outside, to be their ally until sufficient evidence was obtained to cause their arrest.

Warden Keating was in high spirits this morning over the success of his efforts to secure the conspirators, and Benson, who up to this morning has believed himself thoroughly protected by McCabe, was perfectly dumiounded by the disclosure which was made to him.

founded by the disclosure which was made to him.

He wept and protested his innocence at first, cailing his dead mother to witness the truth of his statements, but finally became perfectly stolid and refused to say a word in answer to the questions that were put to him. During the three weeks that Benson has been locked up and his friend Kelly refused admission to the jail, the conspirators have only been able to communicate with each other by letter, Keeper McCabe being the gobetween.

All those letters, of course, passed through the Warden's hands, and he read them all taking copies of the originals, before permitting McCabe to deliver them.

"Everything had been arranged for the escape," said the Warden, "for Wednesday night, as the letter sent by Benson to Kelly the day before shows. He believes that McCabe had secured the key to the corridor, and gave in this lettar as his final instructions to Kelly that he should go to a certain friend of his aptown and procure a drug that would cause sleep.

"At the same time he instructed Kelly to have a telegram sent to me purporting to come from an intimate friend of mine upotown, requesting me to come and see him at once without fail.

"When I had gone the drug was to be given to the other two keepers in charge, and when it had made them unconscious McCabe was to let him out and they would make their escape together.

"Meanwhile it was to be arranged that two escape together.

"Meanwhile it was to be arranged that two men should follow me, and if I started to return before the drug could have its effect they were to lay me out.

"McCabe and Benson were to go to Wash-"McCabe and Benson were to go to Washington, and from thence to Canada.

"I intended to keep the letter at first, but decided to let it go, as I knew that Inspector Byrnes was to make an attempt to arrest themen that night. As luck would have it, the very letter was found on Kelly when he was nabed and is the best link in the chain of evidence against the conspirators that we could desire."

In another letter received some time ago. Benson told Kelly to get some files and saws from a man whom they knew, for breaking iron bars, and at another time he sent for a certain kind of acid.

The Warden had no doubt that Kelly knew where all of Benson's "boodle" was con-where all of Bonson's "boodle" was con-cealed and he found out from the letters' which passed between the conspirators that Kelly was failing to make the proper account to Benson of the money which he was spend-The Warden said his suspicions against Renson and Kelly were first aroused the the training him frequently tickets to the theatres, in order he supposed to get him out of the way while they schemed, and by his questioning him in regard to the various doors and entrances to the jail.

The Guttenburg Entries.

The entries for the races to be run at Guttenburg o-morrow are as follows: First Race.—Purse $200, for horses that have run and not won at the spring meeting, non-winners at the autumn meeting allowed 10 lb.; maidens allowed 15 b.; five furtiongs. nd Bace 200, for besten horses; five fur-

IA. 117 Gold Star.... 117 Transit. 111 Jim Bradt. 110 Vigilant... 110 Little Emily. Fifth Race. The Pack at at at entrance, $6 d which $100 and ha and, the remainder to 0, for all ages; to carry 20 lb., a quarter, over five hurdles. There will be six races on Saturday, including the Palisade Handicap, the entries and weights for which are as follows:

The extra race is at a mile and a quarter, over burdles, to carry 20 lb, above the scale, for a purse of $200.

Fair Weather, Slightly Colder.

Washington, April 20.
-Weather Indications: F.r Connecticut - Light rains, Johnwed by Juie Laceather; slight changes in temperature; winds becoming fresh to brisk

O O Por Eastern New York

Fur weather; slightly

O'Feilue....